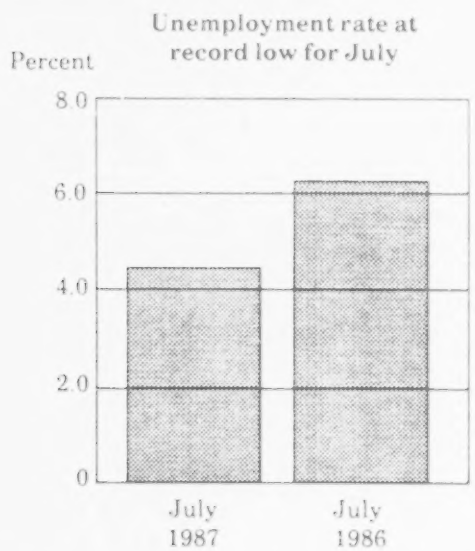
MONTH IN REVIEW
July 1987

Civilian Labor Force

New York's economic resurgence continued as employment advanced to a record high and the unemployment rate declined from 4.6 percent in June to 4.5 percent in July 1987. The rate, which has been below 5.0 percent in each of the last four months, marked a new low for July. The state's unemployment rate has declined significantly over the year, down 1.8 percentage points from July 1986.



Resident employment in the state increased by 118,000 in July to a record 8,280,000. Hiring of youth contributed heavily to the increase. Over the year, resident employment was up 224,000.

The number of unemployed persons was virtually unchanged over the month, increasing 2,000 from June to 394,000 in July. Since July 1986, unemployment has fallen by 147,000.

Nonfarm Employment

Nonagricultural wage and salary employment (which excludes agricultural workers, the self-employed, unpaid family workers and domestic workers in private households) fell 51,500 from June 1987 to 8,106,800 in July, with summer cutbacks in local education responsible for most of the job reduction. Despite the seasonal downturn, New York's nonfarm job count was a record high for the month.

Summer gains in finance, insurance and real estate (+8,200), services (+7,700), and construction (+7,500) resulted in all-time record highs. Hires in the real estate and brokerage industries accounted for nearly two-thirds of the advance in finance, insurance and real estate employment. The majority of services industries reported higher job levels which more than offset a number of cutbacks in private education. Construction employment continued to approach its yearly peak with the bulk of the job gain in the special trade contractor and building construction industries.

Trade employment established a high for July although down from the previous month. The decline in trade (-7,200) mirrored expected job reductions in the restaurant industry.

Government employment led the decline among the remaining industry divisions, down 43,000 from June. The falloff in public employment was centered in the local government portion, where nonteaching personnel on unpaid vacation outweighed the hiring of youth for the summer through the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA). The tempering effect of these hires on temporary public education cutbacks was much less this summer because of reduced JTPA funding. The bulk of the June-July decrease in trans-portation and public utilities employment (-9,800) could be traced to end-of-summer year furloughs of school bus drivers. The 14,700 drop in manufacturing jobs was much less severe than in previous years--a result of fewer persons on unpaid summer furlough.

Since July 1986, the number of jobs on the state's nonfarm payrolls has grown by 176,700. Hiring by services and trade employers accounted for over three-quarters of the over-the-year employment growth.

EXPLANATION OF DATA

EMPLOYED AND UNEMPLOYED

Employed and Unemployed. Employment and unemployment estimates prepared by the New York State Department of Labor are developed under a cooperative federal-state program administered by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) of the U.S. Department of Labor. The Current Population Survey (CPS)--the official survey instrument for measuring labor force attachment in the United States--is a monthly survey of about 60,000 households conducted throughout the nation by trained interviewers. Employment and unemployment data for New York State and New York City are based directly on responses of households within the state and city which are represented in the CPS sample.

The size of the CPS sample is not sufficient to provide reliable estimates for labor areas in the "balance of state" (state less New York City). In these areas, a series of factors are applied to administrative statistics from state unemployment insurance (UI) operations and to payroll statistics from establishment surveys to provide data on resident employment and unemployment. Data for these labor areas are adjusted so they add to "balance of state" totals.

These revised procedures, which were put into effect in January 1978, are designed to make the estimates more comparable from state to state and to incorporate more current data in the estimating process.

Employed. Employed persons are all those who during the week including the 12th of the month, (a) did any work at all as paid employees or in their own business or profession, or farm or who worked 15 hours or more as unpaid workers in an enterprise operated by a member of the family, or (b) did not work but who had jobs or businesses from which they were temporarily absent because of illness, bad weather, vacation, labor-management dispute, or personal reasons, whether or not they were paid by their employers for the time off, and whether or not they were seeking other jobs. Each employed person is counted only once.

Unemployed Unemployed persons are all those persons who did not work during the week including the 12th of the month, who made specific efforts to find a job within the past four weeks, and who were available for work during the week except for temporary illness. Also included as unemployed are those who did not work at all, were available for work, and (a) were waiting to be called back to a job from which they had been laid off, or (b) were waiting to report to a new wage or salary job with 30 days.

Civilian Labor Force. The civilian labor force comprises all civilians classified as employed or unemployed in accordance with the criteria described above. The civilian labor force participation rate is the ratio of the civilian labor force to the civilian noninstitutional population.

Rate of Unemployment. The rate is the total number of unemployed persons expressed as a percentage of the employed and unemployed, i.e., as a percentage of the civilian labor force.

Not in the Labor Force. Not in the labor force includes all persons 16 years of age or older who are not classified as employed or unemployed.

NONAGRICULTURAL EMPLOYMENT, HOURS AND EARNINGS

Benchmark. Represents a comprehensive count of employment for the various nonagricultural industries as of the first quarter of each year. The primary source of benchmark information is employment data received from establishments covered by the New York State Unemployment Insurance Law. Benchmark data for the remainder are obtained from the records of other private and governmental agencies. Employment estimates for the latest benchmark year and for the previous year are normally subject to revision annually. Current estimates are based on the March 1986 benchmark level for each industry.

Hours and earnings data are analyzed each year to maintain continuity of series.

Earnings, Average. For manufacturing, the averages cover production and related workers only. For the remaining industries, averages cover all nonsupervisory employees and working supervisors unless otherwise specified.

--Earnings, Average Hourly. Represents payrolls divided by total number of hours worked or paid for (including paid holiday, vacation, sick leave hours) during period reported. Total payroll includes both straight-time and premium pay. The averages are influenced by the amount of premium pay, as well as by changes in composition of labor force, changes in wage rates, upgrading of employees, etc., and consequently should not be interpreted as wage rates.

--Earnings, Average Weekly. Derived by multiplying average weekly hours by average hourly earnings. Includes premium wages for overtime and night shift work and payments made on piecework or incentive basis. The averages are affected by changes in length of workweek, part-time work, stoppages for varying causes, labor turnover, and absenteeism.

Employment, Nonfarm. Estimates include all nonfarm wage and salary workers who received pay for any part of the pay period including the 12th of the month. Persons on paid sick leave, paid holiday or paid vacation are included, but those on leave without pay for the entire payroll period are excluded. Persons on the payroll of more than one establishment during the period are counted each time reported. Self-employed persons, unpaid family workers, and domestics are excluded.

Historical Continuity. Historical continuity of statistics of average hours and earnings of manufacturing production workers has been interrupted for a number of industry groups because of changes in the composition of reporting samples or changes in the relative weight of individual industries in group totals. The starting month of a revised series is identified in a footnote in the issue in which the revision is introduced. Some series have been discontinued pending improvement in the reporting samples.

Hours, Average Weekly. See Earnings, Average for description of workers covered. The averages represent total number of hours worked (including overtime) or paid for (including paid holiday, vacation, and sick leave hours) during week divided by number of employees. The averages are affected by amount of labor turnover during week, changes in amount of overtime hours, and by changes in ratio of full-time or part-time employment.

--Hours, Average Weekly Overtime. Represents total number of overtime hours worked by production workers during the week divided by total number of production workers. Overtime hours include those for which premiums were paid because those hours were in excess of the number of hours of either the straight-time workday or the workweek. Hours worked on Saturday, Sunday or holidays are included only if premium wage rates were paid.

Nonagricultural Establishments. All employing units except commercial and noncommercial farms, international government and private households.

Production Workers. Includes working foremen and all nonsupervisory workers (including leadmen and trainees) engaged in fabricating, processing, assembling, inspection, receiving, storage, handling, packing, warehousing, shipping, maintenance, repair, janitorial and watchman services, product development, auxiliary production for plant's own use (e.g., power plant), and in record-keeping and other services closely associated with the above production operations. Excludes supervisory employees (above the working foremen level) and their clerical staffs, routemen, salesmen and force-account construction workers.

Reference Week of the Month. Employment, payrolls, hours, and earnings data are based on reports from firms covering a pay period, usually the week, including the 12th of the month.

METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREA

A metropolitan statistical area (MSA) is defined according to a set of detailed standards prepared by the Federal Committee on MSAs. Under these standards, which were revised in 1980, areas are designated as an MSA in one of two ways: If there is a city of at least 50,000 population, or an urbanized area of at least 50,000 with a total metropolitan population of at least 100,000. In New York State, MSAs are defined in terms of entire counties. In addition to the county containing the main city, an MSA also includes additional counties having strong economic and social ties to the central county.

Most MSA definitions are not subject to change until after the next national census. However, supplemental announcements of a few new MSAs may be issued in the spring of each year, generally because additional cities have reached the 50,000 level according to official population estimates.

If an area has more than 1 million population and meets certain other specified requirements, it will now be termed a Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Area (CMSA), consisting of major components recognized as Primary Metropolitan Statistical Areas (PMSAs).

A number of areas in the state do not meet the criteria for recognition as an MSA but estimates are published for them. These areas are called Labor Market Areas (LMAs).

The geographic compostion of the areas (which differ from the administrative jurisdictions of the unemployment insurance and job service program) is given below.

Albany-Schenectady-Troy MSA. Albany, Montgomery, Greene, Rensselaer, Saratoga and Schenectady counties.

INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION

Data are classified in accordance with the 1972 edition of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual prepared by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget. Coverage of the classification services and miscellaneous varies geographically. For New York State and New York City, this classification includes: the services industry division; forestry, fisheries and selected services relating to agriculture; and nonclassifiable establishments. For space requirements on the statistical tables, the formal SIC title for most of the industry groups have been replaced by the short SIC title as contained in Appendix B of the 1972 edition of the SIC Manual-List of short SIC titles. SIC titles used for groupings of two or more two-digit manufacturing industries reflect, to the extent possible, the respective components.
